Good Roads Association Campaign Begins in Few Days

PLANS ARE ENDORSED

Far-Sighted Men Approve Plan to Give State Network of Roads

The North Dakota State Good Roads association was not organized for the period of a year or two, as some people may imagine, but the officers and directors of the association realized at the start that it would take several years to carry out the objects of the organization, and therefore they are preparing for the future.

That is the principal reason for the membership campaign in this city next week. It takes a large number of memberships to finance the organization so that it can do effective work and every effort will be made to have a sufficiently large treasury so that the work of the organization will not be hampered in any way.

That the objects of the association meet with the approval of the people is evidenced by the following extract from a letter received at the association office yesterday:

"I heartily endorse your statement that you are in the good roads game to stay until every county and township in the state inaugurates a system of highways connecting with the state and federal highways. It will make North Dakota a better place and it will be the best state in the union. There is no question whatsoever but that roads make states great."

Investigate Plans.

There is no doubt but that the people of the state are in favor of good roads. As a matter of fact, the North Dakota State Good Roads association is investigating the road plan of all states in the union and is in touch with the bureau of public roads at Washington. When all the data is at hand it is believed that a comprehensive and workable constitutional amendment can be prepared and will meet with the hearty approval of the majority of the voters in the state. Sure it is that under the present highway laws in this state it is impossible to complete any given road across the state and at the same time take advantage of federal aid for the highway. We are working under what is practically a county unit plan of building highways with state and federal aid and any one county can make it impossible to complete a highway that will be of any great use to the state in general.

This winter has been an exceptional winter for North Dakota. The first of a kind since 1897, and it may be a decade before we will have a similar winter. Motor vehicles have been able to run in nearly every part of the state all winter long but next winter we will find it different. The chairman of the county commissioners of Golden Valley county stated in the winter the other day that they had built a graded road north from Beach for several miles and last winter it was possible to use this piece of road all winter long with wheel vehicles. He is greatly in favor of a plan that will give to all portions of the state 365-day highways starting somewhere and ending up somewhere instead of a short piece here and there throughout the state. It seems to be the rule at this time.

Asked to Set Pace.

Bismarck is being asked to set a pace relative to the number of memberships in the North Dakota State Good Roads association. The goal is 100,000 memberships and there are no other cities in the state that want more than Bismarck. When the committee will make a survey of the city and make a list of the names of the people who will be asked to join the association.

LEAGUERS ASK MODIFIED PLAN

Members of the North Dakota League of Women Voters are asking for a modified plan for the state highway system. They are asking for a plan that will give to all portions of the state 365-day highways starting somewhere and ending up somewhere instead of a short piece here and there throughout the state. It seems to be the rule at this time.

Washington, March 11.—As the new administration settles down to a workable basis both President Harding and his chief advisers are giving increasing attention to the country's foreign relations.

For the moment selection of a new set of diplomatic representatives abroad relations with Mexico, the Rhine situation, the league of nations and the Pan-American conference are subjects demanding consideration although there are no indications that all of them have reached a stage for immediate action.

Herrick for Job.

So far as diplomatic appointments are concerned it was said authoritatively that no final selections had been made but that in several cases the field of available was narrowing toward a decision. The new set of appointments is being discussed in the state department.

Hears Mexican Talk.

President Harding discussed the Mexican problem today with R. H. Thompson, his secretary of state, and with George H. Russell, Jr., his secretary of war. The discussion was held in the White House.

The holding of the American troops on the Rhine is one which has been brought to the attention of the new president by the recent advance of the allied forces into Germany. The question of the withdrawal of the American army was not immediately under consideration.

League Talk Up.

Related to some degree to the Rhine situation is the question of American participation in a modified league of nations. Dispatches from Paris say that the French embassy here was reported to have approached the state department on the subject of the first public intimation that the United States had not yet passed a preliminary stage.

TALK OF MONEY ASKED

Want Statement As to Why Charges Are Made and Where Cash Goes

Bitter condemnation of the conditions at the city detention hospital was voiced today by a number of former patients in a communication to the city commission, which also was sent to the board of county commissioners.

The former patients declare they expect to see some action taken in the matter. The petition follows:

"The place is absolutely unsanitary and not fit for human habitation. There is no water in the house. The stoves have to be carried out and emptied in the rear of the hospital. Water has to be carried out for the patients to wash and then poured out."

The rooms are so small that just one patient should be in each of the four rooms available although three patients were in each of the two larger rooms at one time, and two in each of the two smaller rooms while we were there. There is no dining room for convalescents but food is carried up on trays and then poured out. There is no opportunity to be segregated during any time at the hospital but patients are compelled to sit in the hallways with absolutely no privacy whatever."

PETITIONS ARE OUT

A complete city commission ticket was entered in the city election campaign today.

The citizens proposed are George H. Russ, Jr., for president of the commission, Harry Thompson for commissioner, for re-election, and E. A. Brown for commissioner.

Friends of the three men brought them out and distributed petitions in the city. They were emphasized by those who urged the men to be candidates that none of them sought to enter the campaign but that friends placed them in the race and expected that they would not withdraw although they probably would not make a negative campaign.

The program is the same of the three men. They are reduced taxes, better playgrounds, better police administration, and better business administration.

In addition their friends said they were for better disposal of garbage and for a proper disposal of hospital waste.

Using the merits of the three men, friends pointed to the military record of Major Russ, who served overseas and was decorated, and his business experience, the record on the commission of Harry Thompson and the life-long residence of Mr. Brown in the city. His business experience is a credit. His business experience is a credit.

STOCK TAX IS UPHELD; STATE
GETS $120,000

Judge Woodrough Hands Down Decision in Fargo

SECOND TIME IN COURT
Railroads Carried Case to U. S.
Supreme Court Once

Judge Woodrough, in federal court at Fargo this afternoon handed down a decision upholding the state capital stock tax law.

The decision railroads who were taxed must pay about $120,000 to the state, being taxed for 1919 and 1920. They will be assessed for about the same in 1921.

This is the second time the case has been in federal court.

The railroads took the matter to the United States supreme court, the first time on the ground that Tax Commissioner Wallace had erred in including in valuations the Minneapolis and Seattle terminal values, land grants and some other non-operative property. A new assessment was made and the railroads obtained an injunction declaring that during the period for which the assessment was sought to be levied, the railroads were under federal control and that the state was in effect taxing the United States government.

This case was styled Walker v. Hines, director general of railroads, vs. George B. Wallace, state tax commissioner.

In the decision today Judge Woodrough upholds the law and method of assessment. The railroads may appeal.

Plan Is To Include Skilled Workers in the Near Future

New York, March 11.—A general movement by the nations' railroads to cut war-time wage scales, long forecast by rail officials, appeared to be in full swing today following the lead of a few lines which had earlier announced proposed cuts. Several railroads in the east and virtually every railroad in the west announced proposed wage reductions yesterday.

Further statements from lines that have announced proposed cuts were predicted today.

Officials of various lines today were arranging conferences with employees in an effort to reach an agreement on a proposed reduction. The plans as announced affect only unskilled and semi-skilled labor. Men engaged in the actual operation of trains, telegraphers and station agents, are not included.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN CALLED "ENCOURAGING" BUT DOES NOT REPRESENT LIQUIDATION-RICH

Chairman of Federal Reserve Board Reviews Conditions in Northwest

MORE PRICE DECLINES

Some Still Doubt as to How Spring Planting Will Be Financed

Minneapolis, Mar. 10.—John H. Rych, chairman of the board of the Ninth Federal Reserve Bank, today issued the following statement to the directors covering business and credit conditions in the Northwest:

"There was not enough change in business events during February to indicate the probable trend during the spring season, and in many lines there was a marked disposition to await developments. In some respects previous declines in the wholesale markets and important downward changes in raw material costs have tended to produce hesitation rather than new orders, due to the feeling that further recessions may possibly come. Both in business and banking circles there is divided opinion as to whether gains have touched bottom, although there is a feeling that a number of important raw materials are not likely, for the present at least, to go any lower. This is probably true of lumber, which is of prime importance from the standpoint of the hoped for revival of construction, but lumber alone cannot control the situation. Changes in brick, cement, steel, glass, and some of the other important items in the building list, do not place them in the same position as lumber, and for the present, the reduced cost of lumber that goes into building may not prove a sufficient factor to encourage building activity which is so greatly needed. The housing situation is bad at all of the centers, and there is promise of considerable rural building, involving both housing and farm construction. A notable feature of the price changes is their irregularity. This is apparent in both wholesale and retail markets and indicates that further adjustments are yet to come, although the drift is toward normalcy.

Movement Encouraging. "The movement of grain during the month was encouraging, but does not necessarily represent liquidation, since much of the incoming grain is held on storage tickets. From a banking standpoint, agricultural liquidation has not yet appeared. Commercial liquidation has been pronounced, and has proceeded steadily since late November. During the last half of February it showed some tendency to slow down. The agricultural liquidation that has taken place comes to light in the evident ability of wholesale and jobbing firms and other distributors of goods and merchandise to liquidate their banking indebtedness at the centers, but does not appear in the course of county bank deposits or in the form of changes in their bills payable or rediscounted paper. In general, the tendency was for city banks to reduce their indebtedness with a very good degree of success, while country banks during the month showed a disposition to increase their borrowed money somewhat.

"The movement of grain and livestock from farms to terminals was considerably larger in February than a year ago and larger than the ten-year average. Mild weather and improved transportation have helped to bring about a more regular and orderly marketing than existed a year ago. Demand was sufficient in February to sustain wholesale livestock prices, there being as many advances as declines in the South St. Paul market. In fact, cattle prices were stronger at the end of the month with a much larger inquiry for stockers and feeders. Prices of grain in cash sales at Minneapolis sagged during the month with losses of about 10 cents per bushel in the median prices of flax, rye, wheat, and corn. These declines in grain prices have not been due to conditions in the Northwest. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth combined for all grains were but 14 million bushels in February as compared with over 18 million bushels in January, and February wheat receipts alone were about 9 million bushels as compared with over 11 million bushels in January. No important change has taken place in grain stocks in Northwestern terminals.

Prices Decline. "The price declines which occurred in wholesale markets in November, December, and January are slowly reaching the consumer. In February much of the produce as well as the grains and some of the meats recorded further declines at wholesale. Retail prices of foods in Minneapolis are estimated to have declined about 7 per cent between December 1 and March 1.

"The Ninth Reserve Bank was able during February to pay off its indebtedness to other Federal reserve banks and secured a moderate amount of additional liquidation, which has improved its position. City banks handling the business of country banks and bankers report very slight reduction in credit extensions to the country, and there is still some doubt as to how the spring planting demands will be met, although the commercial liquidation that has occurred has improved the outlook somewhat. There is need of active liquidation in the country in order that lending institutions may be put in possession of funds which the agricultural interests will need at planting time.

"The market rate for money has not changed. The whole Federal reserve system realized collections in the three weeks ending February 24 of but 22 million dollars, or about one per cent of the total earnings assets, although February is a "between-season" period of dullness. A year ago we were lending to other Federal reserve banks nearly nine millions of dollars. Our loans to our own member banks are now twelve millions greater than a year ago. The money demand for spring planting needs is but three weeks distant. Locally, some business firms are planning new financing which, coupled with the recent issues of industrial and European government bonds, have probably engaged considerable sums of local capital for investment purposes."

U. S. OFFICER CAUSES ARREST OF JAPANESE

Instead of Buying Secrets Offered Reports to Authorities

Tokio, March 10.—(By Associated Press).—Naval Lieutenant Hamaguchi was today arrested and handed over to a court-martial in connection with an alleged attempt to sell Japanese naval secrets to Capt. Edward Watson, naval attaché at the United States embassy. Capt. Watson, it is said by the Nichi Nichi Shimbun, received two letters signed "Goto Yajima," asking for an appointment as the writer desired to sell for one million yen Japan's mobilization plan against "a certain country." Watson, it is said, turned the letters over to the naval department authorities and investigation resulted in the arrest of Lieut. Hamaguchi.

WHEAT IN N. D. BELOW FEDERAL FIGURE, BELIEF

Commissioner Hagan Believes Not More Than Ten Million on Farms

SEES LOWER ACREAGE

Predicts Wheat Acreage for the Year Will Fall to 6,000,000

Not more than 15 per cent of the 1920 wheat crop of North Dakota remains unsold, in the opinion of Commissioner of Agriculture John Hagan, who believes that the percentage announced for the entire United States by the federal department of agriculture is too large for North Dakota.

Since January 1, when the federal estimate for North Dakota of wheat on farms and in elevators within the state was 20,000 bushels or slightly less than 33 per cent, much wheat has been sold in small lots, the commissioner said. He believes that about 10,000,000 bushels of the wheat crop, estimated at more than 60,000 bushels, remains in the hands of farmers.

The small grain acreage of the state will be greatly decreased, the commissioner believes. He estimates the last year's wheat acreage of 7,600,000 will fall to 6,000,000.

Basis of View. "This view is based on the inability of farmers to finance themselves and the fact that local banks will not be in position to afford them all the aid needed," he said. "There also are some farmers who are able to finance themselves who will reduce their acreage because they figure they lost money on last year's crops."

There will be more diversified farming, the commissioner believes, because of the loss on small grain, the inability of the farmer to finance large acreage and the fact that the farmer "is rapidly learning that he must not place all of his eggs in one basket."

Dairying will increase because it brings the farmer ready money, Mr. Hagan believes.

SURRATT'S ESTIMATE

Grand Forks, N. D., Mar. 10.—Wheat barley and oats remain on farms in North Dakota above average, according to the March reports of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates, made public here today by A. J. Surraatt, statistician for the state. The unusual feature of the situation, the report points out, is that it follows the moderate state yield of last year. As a rule, spring reserves are below average when production is not up to average, Mr. Surraatt points out. The present size of the farm reserve of wheat is largely due to wheat prices, being extremely unsatisfactory to farmers, which has noticeably slowed up the movement in market during winter months. The rather liberal state reserve of oats and barley is attributed to the unattractive market price of these crops, the liberal supply of hay and roughage on farms over most of the state and the extremely mild winter causing feed requirements to be less than usual. It is highly probable that if present market prices continue to prevail the bulk of the present supply of oats and barley on farms will be used for feed.

The farm reserves are rather unevenly distributed, varying from well above the average in eastern counties to below the average in western counties for wheat and from above average in the southeastern quarter of the state to above average in central and southwestern counties and below average in northern counties for oats and barley. The state wheat reserves on farms remaining from 1920 crop of 68,400,000 bushels is estimated to be 26 per cent or 17,745,000 bushels, compared to 11,795,000 bushels last year and the 10 year average (1911 to 1920) of 18,080,000 bushels. The state oats reserve on farms remaining from the 1920 crop of 59,640,000 bushels is placed at 47 per cent or 28,031,000 bushels compared to 12,288,000 bushels last year and the average of 26,132,000.

The North Dakota barley reserve on farms remaining from the 1920 crop of 32,630,000 bushels is estimated to be 33 per cent or 7,938,000 bushels compared with 3,738,000 bushels last year and the average of 7,897,000 bushels.

HUGHES CO. MUST GIVE PATTERSON BENEFIT, RULING

Railroad Commission Acts in Case Involving Utility Service

AFFECTS TWO HOTELS

The board of railroad commissioners, in an order handed down today, ordered that E. O. Patterson be given combined reading and benefit of sliding scale for all steam used in the McKenzie and Soo hotels and Patterson hall; that he be given combined reading and benefit of sliding scale for all electric current used for lighting purposes; for that used for cooking purposes; and that used for power purposes in the McKenzie and Soo hotels and Patterson hall, "dating from March 1."

The order is made on petition of Patterson against the Hughes Electric company, the petition being filed Jan. 11, 1921, and hearing held Jan. 25. The commission order says that for some time meters were installed and wiring done under the direction of Mr. Hughes, manager of the Hughes Electric company, and that Patterson was given combined reading of meters and benefit of scale, on all steam and electric service for three hotels and the hall. However, about two years ago, the order says, individual reading of meters was made and bills rendered accordingly, no reason being given by the Hughes Electric company for the change.

The gas and water companies have given benefit of combined reading and sliding scale, the order says. The commission order says that the McKenzie hotel, being 140 feet away from the basement of the McKenzie, cannot be included in the combined reading unless Patterson makes arrangements to read meters for that hotel in basement of McKenzie.

Patterson also asked that the Hughes company meters be tested to see if they were correct. This was denied, the commission stating that it does not have the necessary apparatus.

SMALLPOX HAS RUN COURSE IN CITY, BELIEVED

Few Cases Left and Not Much Contagious Disease in City

Smallpox has about run its course in the city this winter, in the opinion of Dr. C. E. Stockhouse, city health officer. There are but three cases in the detention hospital at the present time. There have been about 50 reported during the winter, most of them light cases, and many coming from outside of the city.

There are a few cases of scarlet fever in the city and it may increase, but Dr. Stockhouse does not expect any great increase. The usual number of spring cases of measles is expected to develop from the cases now in the city.

Generally speaking the number of contagious disease cases in the city is not unusual.

(Continued from Page 1) eastern railroads of taking steps to bring about reductions in the wartime wage scale of unskilled employees. The reductions will be urged, the officials said, to keep the roads out of bankruptcy and enable them eventually to reduce tariff rates which are said now to be "higher than the public can bear."

At the same time some officials from the Association of Railroad Executives that lower rates of pay for skilled workers probably would be sought after the wages for unskilled men are readjusted.

Great Western Plan. One road, the Chicago Great Western, took the lead among the western lines in the matter of reduction by announcing it proposed a 20 per cent decrease in the pay of every employee from the president down with the exception of train service men, telegraphers and skilled men. The pay of unskilled workers would be brought down to the rate paid in other industries if possible. Conference will be held with the employees at Ogden, Ia., March 15.

About 5,000 men would be affected. Its proposed policy is similar to that announced by the Pan-Pacific railroad.

IT CERTAINLY MADE A BIG CHANGE IN HIM

Never Saw Anything to Build A Man Up Like Tanlac Says Zoost

"I never saw such a medicine as Tanlac to build a man up and get him to feeling like something," said Otto Zoost, a well-known butcher living at 325 Broadway, Fargo, N. D.

"I am in better health today than I have enjoyed for years, and Tanlac is what made the difference. For three years my stomach was so out of order I couldn't eat a thing but what caused sourness, gas and heartburn or nausea and made me feel miserable for hours. My head ached like it would kill me, and I was so dizzy-headed at times I would stagger if I tried to walk. I had no appetite, my strength all seemed to leave me and I just felt completely used up."

"But Tanlac certainly changed things right about for me. My appetite is enormous now, my stomach never gives me a particle of trouble and I sleep like a school boy. I have been built up in weight and strength and feel like a brand new man. Tanlac will always get a good word from me."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Homan, in Stassburg by Strasburg Drug Co. Stratton & Larp Rega.

that conferences must be held with employees and the conference brought before the railroad labor board only when the agreement could be reached in these conferences.

Statements issued by the presidents of various roads declared that the proposed cuts were necessary to enable the roads to run.

NORTH DAKOTA AGENT'S CASE GOES TO JURY

Robert Leady Accused of Conspiracy in Booze Business

Fargo, March 11.—The trial of Robert B. Leady, former acting federal prohibition chief in North Dakota, and two others charged with conspiracy to transport liquor to Sioux Falls, S. D., will go to the jury in federal district court here today. Defense and government had rested at noon.

The defense counsel argued that no evidence had been introduced to connect Leady with conspiracy with E. O. Haugen, of Moorhead, Minn., and Theo. Mueggler, former prohibition office clerk here, who are on trial with Leady.

MILLIONS MAY BE RETURNED TO TAXPAYERS

Washington, Mar. 11.—Solicitor General Frierson, in closing the government's argument today in the "corporate bond tax case" said the government conceded formally that the internal revenue bureau had erred in assessing as profits the difference between the market value of an investment on Mar. 1, 1913 and that on a subsequent date of sale.

If the court accepts Mr. Frierson's view, as Associate Justice Pitney indicated that it would, thousands of individual assessments upon which millions of dollars of assessments on which taxes already have been paid will be annulled.

The action of the lower body of the legislature followed the acquisition of a considerable tract of land in southern Texas by Japanese colonists, who indicated they would encourage the location of other Japanese in the state.

Paying for the Home

"Up to two years ago my money all went to doctors and medicine for my stomach trouble. I was constantly filled with gas and no medicine helped me permanently until I tried a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy at that time with excellent results. Now I am using my money in paying for a home. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded." Adv.

FARM BUREAU'S COMMITTEE WILL ASK FOR AGENT

To Meet in City in April—J. M. Thompson President of Organization

The executive committee of the Burleigh County Farm Bureau organization will meet in Bismarck on April 5 to urge the employment by the county of a county agent, it was announced today by President J. M. Thompson, of Still.

The bureau, now organized with permanent officers, plans to take active interest in all farm matters in the county. The annual meeting of the county organization will be held in June.

Officers have been elected as follows: President—J. M. Thompson, of Still. Vice president—George Day, of Glencoe.

Secretary—Mike Elizabeth Allensworth, of Glencoe.
Treasurer—Mrs. Ellison, of Sterling.
Directors—Will Morris, L. Skeels, Fritz Haggen.

CONDEMN CITY PEST-HOUSE AS FILTHY PLACE

(Continued from Page 1) of a hot air furnace, which is a disease carrier. The walls are grimy and dirty. Water has to be carried up from the kitchen range for fumigation bath. Bath water is drained out by knocking holes through the wall, and is permitted to stand in a pool around the southeast corner of the house. Table scraps and dish water are thrown out around the rear of the house, where pools are numerous. Such filth constitutes a regular breeding place for flies.

Ask About Money
4. Patients have no way of knowing where money paid for care goes and a great many contradictory statements were made by various parties in reference thereto. We were informed one time that it was retained by Mr. Liner; another time that he had to turn it over to the city commission; also that the patients who were unable to pay for their care had their expenses paid by the city to Mr. Liner at the rate of $15.00 per week, which in turn should be turned over to the city commission. We are interested in knowing the truth of the matter.

5. It is our belief that a criminal offense was committed when one patient, Andy Anson, janitor of the So. Hotel, was brought out and in ten days had him taken back. This patient slept in the basement, and in the opinion of the rest of the patients, never had his clothes off while there did not have his clothes fumigated. Was given no family diet bath; showed patients upstairs scores on his arms which still had on sores—so, the health officer took him back and in so doing, in our opinion, violated the law and committed a criminal act.

We also cannot understand why the health officer should ask some of the patients for $5.00 before allowing them to enter the Detention Hospital.

We cannot understand why this particular case was so handled when some of the rest of us were held several days after the danger of contagion was past. We hold this to be partial and unjust on the part of the health officer, and for these reasons consider him incompetent and unfit to be health officer.

Expect Action.
6. Those of us who are residents of Bismarck are vitally interested in this case, and we certainly expect to see some action taken in the matter so that our citizens may be protected, and the Detention Hospital will not be a menace to our city. The rest of us feel that for common decency and common humanity, this deplorable condition should be corrected.

If deemed necessary, we, and each of us, are willing to sign an affidavit as to the truth of the above said statements.

UNITED STATES TO BREAK HUGE DRUG "RING"

More Than 900 Arrested in New York Alone in Three Months

(By Newspaper Enterprise.)

Washington, March 11. Success is attending the joint campaign of the federal government and the individual states to stamp out drug traffic.

In New York City alone, where the campaign is in charge of Dr. Carlton Simon, 900 drug peddlers have been arrested in three months, more than $2,000,000 worth of narcotics have been confiscated and the drug combine that has made the city its market for years has been broken up.

Colonel Levi G. Nutt, director of narcotics in the internal revenue department, says rapid progress is being made in other cities.

Two hundred sleuths operate directly under Nutt.

"The persons we seek fall into three classes—the smuggler, the dope peddler and the addict," says Nutt.

Novel Methods.

"All resort to queer methods of secrecy. One smuggler, a woman was stopped as she stepped off a boat from the Orient in Princeton. Her skirt bulged considerably more than the prevailing styles approved. Her white petticoat was trimmed with deep pockets, in which we found $4,000 worth of opium. She still serving time.

"After a gun battle with peddlers in a hotel in Oklahoma our men found a complete 'dope outfit' in a hole on out of the center of the pages of a Bible. The peddlers now are pounding rocks.

"An international agreement by which no habit-forming drugs can be brought into a country without its consent has been a big factor in reducing the traffic."

Dr. Simon, new commissioner of police in charge of narcotics, who is heading the New York campaign, says evidence has been obtained that may lead to the arrest of many highups in the ring.

Young Sleuths.

Here are some of the things Dr. Simon did when he was placed in charge of the campaign.

Organized a special detective force of men between the ages of 21 and 25.

Provided a wardrobe of disguises permitting his men to mingle with addicts, flunkies and others without detection. Established a bureau of identification and a special Beidillon department for filing information on all persons arrested in the campaign.

On many occasions Dr. Simon's men have worked as longshoremen. Others showed away as tramps or even as to get evidence.

Smugglers Shrewd.

The hunt has been difficult for offenders are cunning. Drugs have been slipped past the officials in parrot cages in hollow clogs and patches specially sewed on the garments of steamship passengers and dozens of other novel ways.

The drug ring Dr. Simon is not a fantasy but a real fact.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, well-known family doctor, who is now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought a drug store last year. It is a true laxative and constipation remedy.

MISS DENNETT NORTH DAKOTAN SCORES SUCCESS

The following item, taken from the Washington Times of February 25th, will interest many North Dakota people who know Fred Dennett, a former Cavalier county man, prominent for many years in state and national affairs:

Miss Dorothy Dennett, who will be the pianist at the Congressional Club's weekly reception, will be heard in Schumann, Liszt, Weber and MacDowell numbers. Miss Dennett will play the "Libesträume" of Liszt, among other things, and the lovely MacDowell "Polonaise." She has a splendid technique and is an interpreter of rare poetic feeling, so that this last musical before the inauguration should be a memorable affair. Louis Thompson will contribute to the program songs by Borodine, Rachmaninoff and Ferreri, the last group being three songs of his own composition. These tenor solos will be accompanied by Miss Dennett. Tea will be served at 5 o'clock.

Miss Dennett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennett, born in Washington, D. C., while her father was private secretary to Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota. Before going to Washington with the North Dakota senator, Mr. Dennett was representative from Milton, Cavalier county in the state legislature, second session, 1892-93. One of the happy results of the Cavalier county representative's visit to Bismarck was the consequent marriage of Mr. Dennett to a charming young woman employee at the capitol. Miss Elizabeth Conesford, deputy insurance commissioner under Insurance Commissioner A. L. Carey of Fargo. The home of the Dennetts has been in Washington continuously since except for a few years spent in Seattle. At the time of Senator Hansbrough's long term of service in the U. S. senate, Mr. Dennett was made commissioner of the General Land Office in Washington, and in the late years has been practicing law.

NORTH DAKOTA'S TRAVELING CLINIC

North Dakota is the third state in the Union to put into effect the "traveling clinic" for help in stamping out tuberculosis in our state.

Within the past few weeks the state has put at the disposal of the State Anti-Tuberculosis association one of its great army trucks. The truck, which is at Fargo, has now started on its way to Grand Forks where Dr. Grassie, president of the state association, will superintend the equipping of the truck which, when completed, will be an up-to-date traveling clinic. An enclosed car will be constructed containing every piece of equipment clinical work, including a dental chair. Traveling in this car will be a physician, a dentist, a nurse, and a lecturer or field worker to explain the workings of the clinic in taking care of tubercular patients.

The car will start out in the spring, visiting first, every institute, convention, and all large public gatherings of people. Between times the car will visit each county in the state, treating all cases coming to the notice of the staff. When winter sets in the car will go into the counties where there are no resident physicians and, by going itself to isolated school buildings, will form a medical center for examination of children in the school and neighborhood, and for treatment of cases of tuberculosis found therein.

Every county in the state of North Dakota has sold the Christmas seals, now an established affair of the Christmas season, and one-half the proceeds of the sale of the stamps in a county go back to that county. The county may have its earned amount in the services of a county visiting nurse, the visit of the traveling car, or in money for promoting needed

YOUR SKIRT MUSTN'T PASS 10-INCH DEADLINE!

The "ten-inch deadline" for skirts is decreed by the Fashion Art League of America.

It seems at first blush that this would make the skirts of short women too short and the skirts of long women too long. But it doesn't.

The league says that all women, short and tall, are about the same height from heel to knee and thus the ten-inch deadline is fair to all.

Besides styles are designed to make the short skirt look long.

The young woman to the right wears a suit of knotted silk fabric in striped effect and black velvet in combination. Maybe it's the striped effect or the velvet, but her skirt hem looks closer to the ground than ten inches.

The girl on the left, with the stripes, wears a navy blue twill and the stripes are gray soutache. The slip gives the skirt appearance of length.

That's eyelet embroidery on gray canton crepe the girl in the center is wearing. The patriotic frock is worn over a slip of navy blue satin. These are the latest things in spring styles.

And by-the-by, the all-white bridal gown is passe. They're showing 'em now in green chiffon and white and other color combinations.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Instantly there was a loud explosion!

"Where's the frog?" asked Nancy as she and Nick and the enchanted goat stood in the burning sun right on the Equator.

The twins were so happy over not casting a shadow, and of getting the goat's permission to continue their journey through his cave, that they had almost forgotten their green companion, which was a wonder, as Nancy was particularly anxious to get the frog outside. She wished to find out if he were indeed the wicked Jinj who had caused them so much trouble on their adventure. If he were that person, the Equator would put an end to his magic. Everyone knows that no real magic can cross it, although it may go safely under it.

Now this is what had delayed the green bullfrog and why he had not followed the twins and the goat through to daylight outside. He was searching for his wishing ring. Nick had taken it off and laid it beside his box of Charms.

"If I can get my Wishing Ring back," grinned the frog, "and you get the Golden Key out of Nick's box to unlock the door into the Room of Sapphires, I shall be safe. They can't reach me then. If I don't find it, and go out into the sun and cast a shadow, the goat will send me back."

Little did he know that he was right under the Equator.

"Hi!" he cried at last. "Here's the ring, and see what they are doing. They can't see me."

But in climbing up the ring turned and the frog came into plain view. Instantly there was a loud explosion! (To Be Continued.)

health work. As an instance of the earnings of a city or county, Fargo has now earned $3,000 in its sale of stamps since the beginning and are now equipping a ward for tubercular patients in a local hospital.

The two states already in the field with traveling clinic cars are California and New Mexico. Many other states in the Union are hard at work in preparation for the sending out of such equipment.

All this bespeaks a great victory over tuberculosis in the country and will be heralded with joy the nation over.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

WANTS IT TRIED OUT. Bismarck, N. D., March 10, 1921. Editor Tribune:

The air is surcharged with recall proposal and initiation of some new laws. The writer has been openly opposed to the administration policies or industries operated by the state.

The farmers of the state have had grievances for many years and this is generally conceded by the rank and file of the opponents of the league program. They have spoken in no uncertain terms for some years now as indicated by the tabulated election returns and it would seem to the writer that it would be a fatal mistake at this time to combat the program and sabotage it or put it out of business until thoroughly tried out until the next annual election. If the state industries should now be killed off the intense feeling of the farmer against the town man would be still ranking as it has for some years, and he would be justified in the conclusion that there is and has been a conspiracy against the farmers interests.

The unfortunate feature of the agitation for several years is the very general feeling of distrust in the country against the towns and this would be refuted if the program they stand sponsor for is not had a fair trial. The farmers will know whether these features should be continued or not when the trial is had, and a reasonably fair chance to show merits if any.

A feeling of suspicion or distrust of one class of people against the other is a serious handicap to both parties and the one way to remove this so generally prevalent is to try out the program and should it or any part of it succeed then and in that event the people opposed to the N. P. L. movement would be a beneficiary.

The state is a strictly agricultural one. The success of the soil producer spells success to everyone in every line of business and the people of the state should get right behind any part of the program that is believed would be a gain to the farmer, and a success or failure would satisfy both factions. If there is an ultimate loss to be paid, the farmer taxpayer will have to pay the major portion.

It would seem there is altogether too much political bias and prejudice on both sides and the matter of real concern are not being and haven't been considered on their merits.

The people of this state have been fed by partisan politics to a fare well for several years and are sorely tired of the agitation and if relief is to be had it should be through the elimination of every professional or self-seeking politician affiliated with either side. A recall would mean simply in the final analysis probably retention of the present administration and the foolish further and continual fanning of political prejudices. Very truly,
NOT IN POLITICS.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

VITALLY INTERESTED

All grain growing states are vitally interested in the conferences being held over the Northwest to evolve a fair and just system of marketing food products. There have been several plans proposed. Some are fathered by the Federal Farm Bureau, functioning through the Committee of 17.

Other agencies are at work upon the same problem to bring an honest solution of the problem of handling products of the soil in the terminal markets of this and other nations. The Tribune believes these efforts are in the right direction and should be encouraged by all business interests to that end that sound business principles obtain in any marketing plan that is finally adopted.

THE ACT AND THE BONDS

U. S. Supreme Court has stamped its O. K. on the federal farm loan act; the law is constitutional. And the bonds, too, are O. K.

They pay 5 per cent interest, and come near being the safest of investments for the man of small means.

It is a matter of cooperations for city consumers to that and their rural brothers in the production of food. Buying a farm loan bond is more than a mere investment. It is helping some farmer, somewhere in this country, to improve his farm so that he may raise more and cheaper food. This may be through the purchase of adjoining acres, better livestock, machinery, or the paying of a high-interest mortgage which has been making low production costs impossible.

The supreme court's decision ought to make farming a more attractive occupation for agriculturalists, for it opens to them a much needed avenue to credit, without which no business could thrive.

The new color; Harding blue, is several shades lighter than the feelings of the disappointed office seeker.

TOO DUMB TO VOTE!

Baron Saito, the Japanese governor of Korea, has opened a fine field of research by his refusal to extend the electoral law to the natives under his charge.

He says the Koreans are mentally incapable of exercising the duties of citizenship.

In other words, they are too dumb to vote.

How dumb must a person be to be denied the ballot? It surprises a citizen of this republic to learn that any man—or woman either—outside a booby hatch, can be termed too dumb to vote.

Here for years we've been voting dummies of every kind and caliber—even dead men in a crisis—and not getting excited about it.

It would be interesting to find out exactly how dumb is a Korean and how much dumber is a dumb Korean than a dumb American politician.

Let's hope the Japanese aren't going to get too fussy and establish a lot of mental standards in the Far East that will stir up all sorts of complications if they creep westward.

American politicians like their constituents dumb and they'll be everlastingly dumbfounded if they're ever anything else.

Senator Dial is on the watch; he's all wound up over the idea of having Judge Landis impeached. Perhaps it's poli-ticks.

YOUR FORESIGHT

The greatest magician that ever lived was Robert Houdin, French conjurer, born in 1805.

But Houdin, after all, was only a human being and the time came when his bag of tricks was exhausted.

At least that was what everyone thought when Louis Napoleon called Houdin to his palace gardens and told him to produce a new trick or lose out at court.

Houdin went through a lot of hocus-pocus and said: "If your majesty will have yonder oak tree cut done, in its heart you will find a gold box and the gold box a message written by your father 30 years ago."

The oak was felled. The gold box and its message was found.

Houdin, in his memoirs published after his death, confessed that 30 years before, he had foreseen just such a situation and had cut into the oak tree and buried the box.

What do you think of that for foresight?

Yet Houdin's ability to figure years in advance was no more remarkable than the foresight of those who have pioneered scores of great industries or guessed correctly the real estate movement of cities.

How many years are you looking into the future?

Have you given any thought to your condition 30 years from now?

FOR GOOD GARDENS

Washington Mail sacks, loaded with the 1921 consignment of free government seeds, are speeding over the rails to almost each of the most remote townships in the country.

More money is being spent by the government to supply these seeds this year than ever before. Seeds that cost nearly $400,000 are being distributed for free trial.

Mail order seed houses are being besieged by an army for catalogs.

Already the windows of the corner grocery store have blossomed with the big seed boxes containing their thousands of packets. The lowly bean is next to the giant crimson tomato packet, and the gaudy green lettuce seed flirts desperately with the radish.

Your government aims to aid you in making a success of the backyards garden. It wants to help you now before you've turned a spade in the loam.

If you care for information on gardening it asks you to write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for any of these farmers' bulletins, which it believes will help, and which will be sent you free:

Farmer's Bulletin 1044, The City Home Garden; Farmer's Bulletin 937, The Farm Garden in the North; Farmer's Bulletin No. 856, the Control of Diseases and Insect Enemies of the Home Vegetable Garden; Farmer's Bulletin 884, Saving Vegetable Seeds for the Home and Market Garden.

The fact that there are a few Red teachers in our schools doesn't excuse us for underpaying the loyal ones.

Many solutions of the housing problem have been suggested but none better than the one to build some houses.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues, which are being discussed in the press of the day.

CENSORSHIP OF MOVIES

With the one exception of the press, there is today no more extensive means for the publication of individual sentiments than the movie-picture screen. Its primacy as an instrument for daily education and influence of citizens of all classes is second only to that of the newspaper.

The movie-picture performs the same functions as the press. The only differences between these two instruments of publication lie in the varying mechanical methods of production and display, with a comparative superiority in efficiency and merit, sometimes with the one, sometimes with the other. The movie portrays the event, the story, the sentiments of the scenario writer—all its messages—by pictured legends flashed upon the screen and also visualizes them in action as in life or as in the living drama or comedy. The press—that is the newspaper or the printed book or pamphlet—also conveys its messages by published words and pictures, and is no more or differently a publication of "sentiments" than the movie, except that its portrayal is confined to the immobile lines of the stereotyped plate.

Therefore, in fact and in law, the newspaper and the movie picture are identified by the same classification as that which is comprehended within the protective prohibitions of our constitutions against interference with the freedom of the press. In all of their legal essentials, they are the same thing. They are both "publications" by persons of "their sentiments," the right to publish which, without pre-publication censorship, is vouchsafed to "all persons."

Without further enactments, every safeguard necessary or desirable for the protection of the public against objectionable publications, whether by the press or by the movies, is already on the statute books. The present statutes against obscene and libelous publications and all legislative restrictions on newspapers apply, or can be made to apply, equally to movie-pictures. The objections to statutory censorship, which has been scrupulously avoided in the case of newspapers, argue with equal force against the censorship of the movies.

Any state or national censorship of the movies—meaning a censorship before the publication—would be a violation of the autocratic oppression of individual liberty of speech and of publication suffered by the Englishmen of Milton's time. It would imitate the brutal dictatorship of Sovietism, now prevailing in Russia. It would be a revolutionary invasion of the free institutions of our American system of government.

As with the press, so with the movies, a censorship is necessary. Such censorship, however, must not be a pre-publication censorship by some meddling political appointees under an ultra-blue-law statute. It must be that more intelligent and lawful censorship which in the end must inevitably be encountered and passed with approval—the post-censorship of a discriminating and, so far as necessary to make it effective, a militant public opinion.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Secretary of Labor Only Member of Cabinet Born Outside U. S.

OCCUPATION—Laborer—general.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE.

CHILDREN—Mrs. James J. Davis, Jr., 4, and Jean, 2.

(N. E. A. Staff Special.)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 11.—When James John Davis of Pittsburgh joins the Harding cabinet, the labor secretary of the United States will be the only member of the cabinet born outside the United States.

Davis already has undergone initiation ceremonies that made him a member of 18 fraternal lodges, and has taken an active part in many of them. He has been especially interested in the Loyal Order of Moose, having joined the order in 1905 as the 247th member.

During the World war Davis made two trips to France as chairman of the Moose War Relief committee. At present he is director-general of the order and garrison of Mooseheart, the wonder town and unique vocational school, 35 miles from Chicago, that is open only to children of dead members of the Moose. It was largely the work of Davis that made the town and institution possible.

Davis is the only member of the cabinet who was born outside the United States. Wales was his birthplace. Oct. 17, 1873, was the date.

With his father, mother and five brothers and sisters, he came to America in 1881 and at the age of 11 he went to work in the steel mill at Sharon.

The new secretary worked in Pittsburgh mills as a puddler in 1892 and a year later went to work in the steel mills at Elwood, Ind. Five years later he was elected city clerk of Elwood, serving until 1903. He served then for four years as county recorder of Madison county, Ind.

Davis, while at Elwood, was elected vice president of the Amalgamated Association, of Iron and Steel Workers and is still an active member at Granite City, Ill.

He also is president of the American Bond and Mortgage Co. in the Farmers' Bank building here.

Davis is married and has two children, James, Jr., 4, and Jean, 2. Mrs. Davis and the children are living at Sharon.

WAYSIDE PRAYER

By Florence Berner

Oh, little bird that gayly flits
From twig to leafy tree,
And helps to fill this sad old world
With sweetest melody,
I hear thy music every day,
Then why must I forget to pray?

Oh, little flower along the way,
I sense thy fragrant bloom,
And stop to revel in the bliss,
Of thy sweet, faint perfume.
Thou givest all thou hast to me,
Then why must I live selfishly?

Oh, singing bird and swaying flower,
A lesson ye have given;
If I but seek to win the prize
In vain have I then striven;
But if a helping hand I lend,
The world will know me for a friend.

This then shall be my wayside prayer:
Lord, let my light so shine,
That others seeing it take heart,
To brave the steep incline,
And when they've reached the topmost stair,
They'll leave their lights still shining there.

With the Movies

Something unusual in the way of photoplay productions is promised in George Melford's "Behold My Wife!" which will be shown at the Ettinger theater for three days, commencing tonight. The picture was adapted from Sir Gilbert Parker's popular novel, "The Translation of a Savage" and is declared to combine a deeply appealing story with lavish and artistic settings.

An aristocratic young Englishman, temporarily located in Canada, and an Indian girl whom, in a moment of rage because his parents have caused his dance back home to lift him, he marries are the chief characters in the picture. Anxious to disgrace his folks, he sends his redskin bride to England. But he has reckoned without the girl's real character and the big-heartedness of his elder brother. For in a few years she blossoms into a real belle. Dramatic events bring about a reconciliation between the ill-matched pair.

Mabel Julienne Scott, Milton Sills, and Elliott Dexter are in the cast, and the picture is a Paramount.

LINTON EDITOR AGAINST RECALL; WOULD KILL LAW ENTIRELY

F. D. Streeter, editor of the Linton Record, is against a recall election declaring the recall would mean great expense and that as a matter of governmental principle the recall should be used "sparingly." He also expresses himself in favor of killing the recall laws at first opportunity, saying it "will not work properly in practice." Mr. Streeter says in part:

The big argument now among the Independents is the matter of a recall. It seems that the Independents have done their duty. They have dug up some of the facts pertaining to rotten conditions under the league administration. He who wishes to find out for himself may now do so. So, if the leaguers who are a menace will take a little trouble to look into matters, they may determine the future for themselves. It isn't necessary, then, for the Independents to stand the trouble and expense of a recall. It's up to the honest leaguers who are property owners, and who have as much at stake as the Independents to take the necessary steps if the leaguers can stand present conditions until the next regular election, the Independents certainly can

DAKOTA BRAVES TO DANCE, SING ON JULY FOURTH

Indians to Revive Ancient Religious Ceremony on Reservation

TO PICTURE CHIEFS

Rosebud Agency, Rosebud Indian Reservation, S. D., March 11.—"E ya ha we-e ya ha ya." The Dakota braves will sing and the sun dance will begin.

A revival of this ancient religious ceremony is planned for the 4th of July celebration this year on the Rosebud reservation. Chief Maza Blaska (Plattened Iron) and Tatanaka-Picila (Short-Bull), the aged seer of the Dakota nation, and others of the older generation who took part in the ceremony when it was conducted in real earnest half a century ago, will supervise the reproduction to see that proper effects are attained.

The sun dance (the paleface name for the ceremony which the red men know as the offering) is the chief episode in a ritual embracing a series of ceremonies lasting from three to six days. The actual dance begins at sunrise and continues until the following sunrise in the ritual but the time will be shortened materially.

Originally the dance was held upon the appearance of the full moon occurring at or next after the summer solstice.

Impressively, the sun dance will begin with prayer. Standing in a circle, with arms outstretched toward the sun, the dancers will slowly chant to the Great Mystery a prayer that all evil may be lifted from the individual and from the tribe, that their desires and wants may be gratified, and that they may be spared ill fortune. With the final note of the fourth repetition the drum is struck, the time of the chant is quickened into spirited song, and the dancing begins. Gazing ever at the sun, the dancers, garbed in the skins of wild animals and painted about the face and upper part of the body with the sacred red, will perform the gyrations and free movements of the dance, circling about the sun pole to the tune of the offering song. The singing begins in high notes and gradually declines until it is almost guttural.

The representation will include a replica of a Dakota Indian village—tpees of buffalo hide erected in a circle about an opened space in which will be erected the sun pole or "mystery tree," symbolic of the center of the four quarters of the heavens, a sacred tent of preparation and a dance lodge, in which the dancers will make ready and the afflicted will be treated with the curative wild sage, just as of yore.

It was the custom for each dancer to make a prayer to the disposer of the things he needed, through an appeal to the sun. In the dance each persisted in his part until he had received a vision from the sun. And if, at the close of the ceremonies, he had received no vision he resorted to self-sacrifice, which was called "vision hunting."

$1100 IN HERO FUND

In Addition, Club Will Buy Arms for Girl

(By Newspaper Enterprise.)

Fairmont, W. Va., Mar. 11.—More than $1,100 has been deposited to the credit of the "Rosie Sacola Hero Fund" in the Fairmont State Bank of Fairmont, W. Va.

The money is to be used for the special education and training of Rosie Sacola, America's greatest heroine.

The fund was started after Rosie lost two arms in an accident and then, while in a hospital, gave skin from her body to save the life of another child.

As soon as Rosie's shoulders are thoroughly healed she is to be taken to Chicago, where she will be provided with artificial arms.

The West Virginia Board of Children's Guardians then expects to place her in a private home under private tutoring.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Fairmont announces it will pay for Rosie's new arms.

The money in the "Rosie Sacola Hero Fund" will pay for the education and training.

STATE'S FIRE LOSS NEEDLESSLY LARGE

Millions Declared Lost in Preventable Blazes.

REPORT ON SURVEY MADE BY STATE FIRE LOSS COMMISSIONERS

Fire Department Official Addressing School Children on Fire Prevention; Lower Right—Cover of Booklet Issued for Children.

ENTHUSIASM for enactment of the bills providing for fire prevention education which have been introduced in many State legislatures, is spreading rapidly throughout the nation, according to letters coming from Governors of States to the National Association of Credit Men, New York, which is vigorously leading a wide movement for legal and earnestness leading to fire loss prevention education.

Reports from State and city Credit Men's Associations in a majority of the States indicate that by the time the next legislature adjourns its session this year many new State laws providing for public school instruction against fire waste and carelessness leading to fire loss will have been placed on the statute books.

"Every thinking person is appalled by the magnitude of waste of life and property by fire, much of which is preventable," writes Governor Len Small, of Illinois. "It would seem that the prevention of fire should be one of the most important subjects of instruction in the schools."

While the movement for teaching fire prevention in the schools in every State is thus gathering momentum, New Jersey has taken the lead in the new model law which went into effect in that State last fall. Over 100,000 copies of a fire prevention manual prepared for the United States Bureau of Education by the National Board of Fire Underwriters have been distributed by boards of education in New Jersey, and instruction from its text and pictures is being given for at least an hour each month in all the schools of the State.

MONONGO TRAIN CONNECTION IS DENIED HERE

An application filed by F. J. Graham and others of Ellendale, N. D. for a train connection between the Soo lines and the Milwaukee railroads at Monong Junction is denied by the board of railroad commissioners. The commission says:

"Whereas, the Soo Line carries passengers from all points between Bradock and Lidgerwood, and Pollock and Wishek; for Minneapolis, and eastern points and also, carries a sleeping car from Oakes to St. Paul, connecting with the main line Soo train at Hankinson at 9:55 p. m. from which it appears that a large number of passengers would be greatly inconvenienced being forced to wait any length of time for the train at Hankinson, and

"Whereas, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train from Edgely is scheduled to make connections at Aberdeen with a through train for Chicago at 5:50 p. m., which connection cannot be made if the Edgely train is delayed at Monong crossing.

"The commission is of the opinion and finds, that the advantage of the connection at Monong Junction will greatly exceed the disadvantage by the train connection at Hankinson and Aberdeen and that this application be denied."

SOUTH DAKOTA NEEDS MORE FEEDING CATTLE, SAYS HOLMES

Brookings, S. D., March 11.—South Dakota is and has been forging ahead in purebred livestock. But the state is behind in the matter of feeding and will not be a leader in livestock until more stock-raisers become better acquainted with the problem of feeds and the results to expect from feeding grain to livestock. Some four or five feeders in each county should be interested enough in the development of their county, suggests J. C. Holmes, livestock specialist in the extension division of the state college, to check up the amounts of feed and the cost of making a pound of pork or beef for the farm bureau. Then, in time, the best feeding methods will have the greatest following.

JOHNSON SWITCHES FIRMS—PETERSON JOINS O'CONNOR

Grand Forks, March 11.—Announcement was made yesterday that Attorney Swelbjorn Johnson has dissolved his partnership with Attorney J. F. T. O'Connor, and has joined the firm of McIntyre & Burtness, henceforth to be known as McIntyre, Burtness and Johnson.

At the same time an announcement was made that Attorney C. F. Peterson of Fargo has entered into a partnership with Mr. O'Connor, and that this firm will be known as O'Connor & Peterson.

The firm of O'Connor and Johnson has been in existence since 1914 at which time Mr. Johnson abandoned his duties in the political science department of the state university.

Mr. Peterson of Fargo has arrived in the city to take up his new work; he has formerly been connected with the Lawrence & Murphy law firm in Fargo and also with Pierce, Tennison & Copley. During the last two years Mr. Peterson has been state claim examiner for the Fidelity & Casualty Company of New York.

"FORMLESS" CONCRETE WALLS.

Grand Forks, March 11.—To capitalize and put into practical use a plan patented by Louis N. Butler, a system of "formless" concrete construction through which architects believe that fifty per cent of the original cost of constructing exterior walls, and from 30 to 35 per cent of the cost on interior walls, can be saved. L. N. Butler and company yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state at Bismarck.

Although Mr. Butler, who patented the idea, lives in Fargo, other of the incorporators live in Grand Forks and headquarters of the company will be made here. The company is capitalized at $20,000 and the incorporators are Frank J. Sibell and William J. Butler of Grand Forks, Frank G. Butler of Fargo and Louis N. Butler of Moorhead. Patent rights are taken over by the corporation.

PLUMBERS ELEVET.

Fargo, March 11.—Lief Henning of Fargo was elected president, Robert Spriggs of Grand Forks, vice president, and J. L. Hulteng, also of this city, was named secretary-treasurer, of the North Dakota Master Plumbers' association at their annual convention in Fargo.

These three officers will also act on the board of directors. The other members of the board of directors are M. Carr of Mayville and T. S. Halligan of Jamestown.

Mr. Hulteng is president of the Grand Forks Builders' and Traders' executive.

WANT HOLSTEIN MEETING.

Grand Forks, March 11.—In an effort to obtain their opinion on the matter, letters to 400 members of the North Dakota Holstein Breeders' association, which holds its annual sale and meeting next June, are being sent out by the Grand Forks Agricultural society, the Commercial club and the County Farm Bureau, which are uniting in an invitation to the breeders to meet here.

The annual Holstein sale last year was held at Valley City. It is considered an important event, and the local organizations have offered special co-operation and support in putting on the sale if held in Grand Forks.

Farm Organizations Will Consider Plan For Sale of Grain

Executive committees of the various farm organizations in North Dakota have been invited to attend a meeting to be held at the Gardner hotel in Fargo Wednesday, March 23, at which time two members of the committee of seventeen will explain the grain marketing plan drawn up by that committee and will ask endorsement of this plan.

Among the organizations which have been invited to attend are the North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation, the state branch of the National Wheat Growers' association, the Grange, and the state branch of the Society of Equity. The members of the committee of seventeen, who will speak at the Fargo meeting, are J. M. Anderson of St. Paul, manager of the Equity exchange, and C. V. Gregory, secretary of the American Agricultural Editors' society.

At the meeting at Fargo, six state delegates will be elected to attend a national convention to be held at Chicago April 6, at which time the committee of seventeen will present its plan with all of the final details, and the convention will then adopt, modify or reject it. Meetings similar to the one scheduled for Fargo will be held in the 25 leading grain producing states of the union beginning March 14 and ending March 24 and delegates will be elected at those meetings to attend the national ratification meeting.

A total of 82 delegates will attend, each state being apportioned one delegate at large and one delegate for each 15,000,000 or major fraction thereof of grain marketed annually on an average from statistics for the past ten years. North Dakota ranks sixth, with an average value of $82,017,778, leading Minnesota and South Dakota.
